PRESENTATION OF Q4 AND FY 2022 RESULTS

María Björk Einarisdóttir, CFO

Q4 HIGHLIGHTS

GOOD FINANCIAL RESULTS IN Q4 DESPITE SWIFT CHANGES IN INTERNATIONAL SHIPPING AND TRANSPORTATION MARKETS ALONG WITH GROWING ECONOMIC UNCERTAINTY

- EBITDA in Q4 driven by good performance of container liner
 - Westbound Trans-Atlantic the only major international trade lane where freight rates stayed on a high level throughout Q4 which reflects in the results of the Trans-Atlantic services
 - Other trade lanes performed well in the quarter despite traditional slowdown in December
 - Container liner capacity was temporarily hit by EF Ava's breakdown which caused the vessel to be out of service for six weeks
 - The charter vessel Star Comet was added to the fleet in November, increasing capacity on the North-America route
 - Focusing on meeting inflationary pressure on sailing system cost through operational adjustments
- Inflationary environment, including general wage increase, combined with less fish transportation, adversely affecting result of Domestic Iceland in Q4 which was down YoY
- International forwarding with overall good results, although lower than same period in 2021, due to material change in market conditions, especially in the Asia operation
- Electric shore connection in Sundahöfn was completed in the quarter for Dettifoss and Brúarfoss and Dettifoss was connected for the first time in December
 - Expecting to reduce annual oil consumption by up to 240 tons equaling 750 tCO₂ emission

2022 HIGHLIGHTS

STRONG FINANCIAL RESULTS DRIVEN BY EMPHASIS ON EXCELLENT CUSTOMER SERVICE, OPERATIONAL FOCUS AND FAVORABLE MARKET CONDITIONS FOR THE GREATER PART OF THE YEAR

- Most trade lanes in container liner performed well in 2022 on back of good volume and successful capacity management
 - Import to Iceland remained on a high level throughout the year on back of high activity in the Icelandic economy while export volume decreased from previous year, temporarily affected by the war in Ukraine which caused disruptions in pelagic exports into the Baltic
 - Trans-Atlantic saw strong growth both in terms of volume and revenue, supported by adjustments to the sailing system
 - Changes were made to the service on the red line which stopped calling Aalborg, resulting in cost-savings and creating new business opportunities for Eimskip Denmark's warehousing operation
- The reefer liner services in Norway performed well in the year despite disruption and necessary schedule change at the end of February when the reefer vessels permanently stopped calling Murmansk
- International forwarding benefitted from high global freight rates during the first half of the year, but as the economic slowdown and recessionary pressure progressed worldwide, rates started to soften at the end of Q2 followed by a sharp decline in Q4
 - The easing of port congestion and availability of space and equipment with Deep-Sea lines had a positive impact on forwarding volume in Q4 compared to previous quarters. However, the decrease in rates resulted in a decline in overall revenue and margins
 - Eimskip's international forwarding operation is specialized in transportation of frozen and chilled products which are generally more resilient to economic cycles
- Cruise agency and related services in Iceland rebounded after covid and delivered excellent results on back of high activity and increased cruise traffic
- Important steps taken towards energy exchange with e.g. shore connections for vessels in Sundahöfn, LOI with the Icelandic energy company Landsvirkjun concerning Eimskip's energy transition for its shipping- and ground transport fleet, and investments in greener equipment

Full environmental statement for 2022 is available at the Company's website

GHG EMISSIONS PER TRANSPORTED TON*

CO₂ Very positive development in Eimskip's Sustainability KPI, GHG emission per transported ton, due to less oil consumption in the container liner system, increased volume overall and higher utilization of the sailing system

The KPI shows a 23% decrease compared to the base year 2015

5 *Official KPI set in 2015 is used to measure the progress of reducing GHG emissions by 40% before 2030. It represents all Scope 1 emissions of all vessels in Iceland, Norway and Faroe Islands and trucks/equipment in Iceland per tons of transported unit. The KPI is adjusted to vessel sharing agreement with Royal Arctic Line (RAL) due to rules regarding transportation to and from Greenland.

ANALYST CONSENSUS

New approach to service analysts and other capital markets participants

CURRENT APPROACH

- The Company currently practices disclosing an estimate of its quarterly results before the scheduled publication date, if the results for any given quarter differ by more than 10% from the same quarter in the previous year
 - This practice was presented and further outlined in the investor presentation of the Q3 2021 results
 - This method has proven inadequate, due to the cyclical nature of the business, and has received some criticism from investors and analysts

NEW APPROACH

- The Company will as of Q1 2023, change its approach to disclosing financial information before publication date
- The new approach is a recognized methodology that is practiced by public companies internationally and domestically by companies such as Arion banki, Íslandsbanki and Marel
- After the end of each quarter, Eimskip will gather analysts' predictions for the just-ended quarter and the financial year on the following items:
 - Operating revenue, operating expenses, salaries and related expenses, EBITDA and EBIT
- Subsequently, Eimskip will issue a public consensus based on the average of the analysts' forecast on its investor website
- Eimskip will evaluate the need for early disclosure based on variance from the EBITDA analyst consensus and other relevant factors

OUTLOOK

START OF 2023 IN LINE WITH EXPECTATIONS

- Container liner performing well at the start of the year, given the traditional seasonality
 - Import Iceland volume remains good while Export Iceland volume has been on a lower level than expected due to lower production of some export commodities
 - Good start of the year in Faroe Islands despite a shift in pelagic activity which is expected to increase later in the quarter. Outlook for salmon production is good for the year
 - Continued demand for Eimskip's Trans-Atlantic services despite worsening outlook in the US economy, supported by good customer relationships and niche market focus
 - Trans-Atlantic market rates started to decrease at the end of 2022 and the trend has continued into 2023 with current rates on similar level as same time last year
- The year started slowly for international forwarding, given the seasonality. Volume has picked up in recent weeks although at lower rates than in the previous year
 - Holiday season affected volume in European trades, Chinese New-Year affecting Asian trades and West-African trades have been challenging due to tough economic situation
- Solid start of the year in Norway, with generally good outlook for the coming fishing season, despite a quota reduction
- The start of 2023 is marked by global macro-economic uncertainty with high inflation and rising geopolitical tension
 - Eimskip's forwarding operations are highly correlated to developments in international trade, although its specialization in reefer logistics provides an advantage
 - Eimskip is well positioned as a shipping line mainly servicing wealthy economies in the Arctic region which are highly reliant on import and export
